

Web design principles summary quiz

10 questions

---

1.

Important things to consider in your design are:(select all that apply)

- Does it lay out well on different browsers?
  - How difficult is it to learn?
  - Does it lay out well on different devices?
  - Who is using your site?
-

2.

Responsive design means

- A website with efficient technical support
  - A website that answers all the questions a user has
  - A website which adapts to different screen sizes
  - A website which responds quickly to user input
-

3.

Which of the following are types of navigation for websites? (select all that apply)

- Hierarchical
- Local

- Global
  - Natural
-

4.

The most important areas of the screen are: (select all that apply)

- The top
  - The bottom
  - The left
  - The right
-

5.

Accessible sites have:(select all that apply)

- Permanently large fonts
  - alt text in the images
  - Semantic HTML
  - Been tested with the CSS rules switched off
-

6.

Which of the following fit into the cognition/ evidence based approach?
(select all that apply)

- Telling a user where they are
  - Telling a user where they can go
  - Presenting information to the user as clearly as possible
  - Using eye tracking studies to inform the layout
-

7.

Which two of the following are user centred questions (as opposed to cognitive, evidence based questions)? (select all that apply)

- What do the users want?
  - How do the users move their eyes over a page?
  - Who are the users?
  - Is red text on a black background difficult to read?
-

8.

Which of the following comes first in both user centred design and evidence based design approaches?

- The CSS code
  - The HTML code
  - User experience
  - The home page
-

9.

Which of the following are good design principles?

- Show only the information that the user group you have identified for your site is likely to want to see.
  - Make it look the same on all devices
  - Use as many colours as possible to make the site exciting.
  - Show as much information as possible so every possible user can see the information they want.
-

10.

Which of the following are bad design principles? (select all that apply)

- Vary the text size to stop the site from being boring

- Always use background colours
  - Use colours for titles, with different colours for different titles.
  - Invite users into your site by displaying as much interesting information as possible.
-

Submit Quiz

